About the Webinar: This program will discuss the latest developments in the Trump administration’s executive orders affecting federal procurement practices, including proposed revisions to the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR). Federal government contract attorney, Jim Nagle, will give an up-to-date evaluation of the recent federal contract law developments, with Bob Symon moderating the program.

GENERAL INFORMATION

How the Webinar Works – This webinar will be conducted and recorded using Zoom. You will receive a confirmation email providing your unique Zoom access/log-in link and passcode upon registration. Access details may not be shared. Only registered attendees are eligible for MCLE credit. This webinar is free for ACCL Fellows and invited guests. If you are interested in the topic but cannot attend the live event, register anyway and you will be sent a link to view the recorded version when it is posted and available 1-2 days afterward. Advance registration is required.

Q&A – The audio and video will be streaming on your computer in “view/listen only” mode, however you may ask questions using the Q&A or chat functions to be addressed live during or at the conclusion of the seminar.

Course Materials – When applicable and permitted, a PDF or link to the course materials and/or presentation slides will be sent to registrants in a follow-up email after the seminar.

MCLE Credit – MCLE credit has been approved in Texas. A “uniform certificate of attendance” will be provided after the webinar to aid in filing for credit in other states. Approval will vary by state.

ABOUT THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF CONSTRUCTION LAWYERS (ACCL)

ACCL is a national organization of lawyers who have demonstrated skill, experience and high standards of professional and ethical conduct in the practice, or in the teaching, of construction law, and who are dedicated to excellence in the specialized practice of construction law. The College provides advanced professional workshops and educational programs to its Fellows and identifies and contributes to the solution of major construction industry legal problems. It is a collegial forum for the exchange and development of ideas by some of the most knowledgeable attorneys in construction law. For more information, visit www.accl.org.
