Bradley Arant Boulton Cummings Attorneys Publish Definitive Creditors' Rights Law Handbook

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (January 24, 2011) – Bradley Arant Boulton Cummings LLP partners William L. Norton, III and Roger G. Jones have co-authored the 2010 edition of the Norton Creditors' Rights Handbook. The attorneys have worked together for over twenty year and are members of the firm's Bankruptcy, Restructuring and Distressed Investing Group.

The Norton Creditors' Rights Handbook, published by ThomsonReuters, is a definitive resource for bankruptcy attorneys, in-house counsel, credit managers and others regarding controlling credit transactions. It provides a narrative outline of the three major steps in the debtor-creditor relationship: inception, out-of-court workout, and bankruptcy. The text analyzes the important laws and regulations in effect, identifies potential problem areas at each juncture of the process, offers practice-proven strategies for avoiding creditor traps and pitfalls, and includes forms used to document various transactions.
